

Talastasan sa Diliman is a series of forums organized by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs (OVCSA) in cooperation with different student groups and other organizations in and out of the University. This initiative aims to discuss relevant issues and concerns affecting the University and the nation from the lens of students and other stakeholders. In October 2014, the inaugural Talastasan was held in partnership with the Philippine Collegian and the National Service Training Program (NSTP) of the College of Social Sciences and Philosophy designed to examine the contemporary role and relevance of student activism. The UP Diliman University Student Council (USC) is the main partner of the OVCSA in the upcoming forums: “Assessing the Results of ST System Applications in UP Diliman”(28 November 2014) and “Understanding ASEAN” (22 January 2015).
