UP STUDENT MENTAL HEALTH AND WELLNESS NETWORK

RESPONDING TO THE COVID-19 SITUATION

The COVID-19 Pandemic has affected all educational institutions in the Philippines. To curb the infection rate, schools and universities closed residential campuses. The closure necessitated sending home students to observe the community quarantine policies. The closures also meant operating under work from home arrangements and attending to students' needs remotely.

The Pandemic introduced different challenges for UP students that could be detrimental to their Mental Health. According to Republic Act No. 11036, Mental Health is a state of well-being in which the individual (1) realizes one's abilities and potentials, (2) copes adequately with the everyday stresses in life, (3) displays resilience in the face of extreme life events, (4) works productively and fruitfully, and (5) can make a positive contribution to the community. During the UP System-wide Consultation organized to document experiences of students, care for Mental Health was identified as one of main concerns. Even when UP students are at home, mental health can decline due to individual factors and changes caused by the shift in teaching modes. Support mechanisms are needed to help students cope with the stresses brought about by the Pandemic and the shift to remote teaching and learning.

Even before the Pandemic, the different campuses of UP have engaged Mental Health service providers. However, a broader network is needed to respond to the diverse mental health needs of students. The UP student population is composed of individuals from a varying spectrum of mental health states. Given this, there is a need to expand the pool of Mental Health Service Providers of UP to respond to various mental health concerns.

The UP Student Mental Health and Wellness Network aims to facilitate the delivery of and access to needed mental health and psychosocial support services for UP students. The Network is expected to increase the availability of Mental Health Service Providers in the different CUs who can (1) provide psychosocial support and services for students and other University stakeholders, and (2) facilitate referral for treatment and other interventions. By consolidating Mental Health service providers in every UP Constituent University (CU) into a UP System Network, UP students and Student Affairs personnel can be given access to professional help even when they are in their respective homes.

DIRECTORY OF MENTAL HEALTH SERVICE PROVIDERS

To support the creation of this Network, the UP Student Affairs and Services units prepared a Directory of Mental Health Service Providers. Mental Health Service Providers are persons and organizations that offer a range of mental health support services. They include professionals and workers, counselors, advocates, and individuals who can offer non-medical alternative therapies. The Directory is a compilation of information on Mental Health Service Professionals and Workers recommended by UP CU Student Affairs units.

The UP Directory of Mental Health Service Providers provides vital information to link students with persons and organizations that can offer various psychosocial support and services even when they are at home. The material can also aid Student Affairs personnel when referring students to mental health service providers near an area for treatment and other interventions.

The Directory provides information on Mental Health Service providers who can offer support and care to students from different mental health states. The individuals and organizations in this Directory are grouped as follows:

Category 1: Mental Health Service Providers for students with Mental Health concerns

Mental Health Service Providers for stakeholders with mental health problems and concerns but are not diagnosed with a mental health condition. Professionals, workers, and organizations under this category are equipped to provide services to stakeholders with poor mental health. They can:

- Provide counseling and case management for students with poor mental health;
- Provide suicide prevention and postvention for suicide survivors;
- Provide other related mental health services for stakeholders with poor mental health;
- Liaise social support with stakeholders on ways to improve their mental health concerns;
- Liaise stakeholder's concerns with the academic staff of the University; and
- Provide appropriate referral to other Mental Health Service Providers as deemed necessary

Category 2: Mental Health service providers who can provide care for students with diagnosed Mental Health condition

Mental Health Service Providers equipped to assist individuals with mental health problems and diagnosed with a mental health condition. Individuals and organizations in this category are equipped to accommodate students and stakeholders with mental disorders. They can:

- Provide counseling and case management for students with mental health concerns and mental disorders;
- Provide any of the following mental health services:
 - Assessment and diagnosis of mental disorders,
 - Suicide prevention and postvention for suicide survivors,
 - Provision for psychological therapies specific for a diagnosed mental disorder,
 - Prescription of medication, or
 - Other related mental health services for stakeholders with mental disorders.
- Liaise social support with stakeholders on ways to improve their mental health concerns;
- Liaise stakeholder's concerns with the academic staff of the University; and
- Provide appropriate referral to other Mental Health Service Providers as deemed necessary

Category 3: Mental Health service providers who can provide Psychosocial Rehabilitation

Professionals and workers who can provide psychosocial rehabilitation to stakeholders diagnosed with a mental health condition, but with improving / improved condition. Mental health service providers assigned in this category can:

- Provide psychosocial rehabilitation, such as academic reintegration, occupational rehabilitation, and economic support;
- Provide suicide prevention and postvention for suicide survivors;
- Provide counseling and case management for students in need of psychosocial rehabilitation;
- Liaise social support with stakeholders on ways to improve their mental health concerns;
- Liaise stakeholder's concerns with the academic staff of the University; and
- Provide appropriate referral to other Mental Health Service Providers as deemed necessary.

The Directory will be updated from time to time to expand the pool of Mental Health Services Providers who can provide care and support to UP students and other stakeholders.

Category 1: Mental Health Service Providers for students with Mental Health concerns

Individuals and organizations in this category are trained to provide services to stakeholders with poor mental health. They can:

- Provide counseling and case management for students with poor mental health;
- Provide any of the following mental health services:
 - Suicide prevention and postvention for suicide survivors, or
 - Other related mental health services for stakeholders with poor mental health
- Liaise social support with stakeholders on ways to improve their mental health concerns;
- Liaise stakeholder's concerns with the academic staff of the University; and
- Provide appropriate referral to other Mental Health Service Providers as deemed necessary
